NIFTY OUTLOOK

TradingView

Nifty wrapped the week with a hammer candle, signaling bullish intent after defending the fair value area high of 24,589. However, the candle is also an inside bar of the previous week, hinting at consolidation. For a clear directional move, the index must break and sustain above 25,063. A decisive move past this level could trigger a rally toward 25,847—the next key resistance marked by a weekly order block. On the downside, immediate supports are seen at 24,736 and 24,584. Technically, both the 10-day and 20-day EMAs are well-aligned to fuel an upward breakout. Until a clean breach of 25,063 occurs, expect a tight range. The setup is ripe, but confirmation is key for trend continuation.

Support : 24736 - 24584

Resistance : 25063 - 25250

Strategy : Buy nifty on breakout above 25063 or on dips to 24736 with stop below 24650 for an upside of 25250.

BANK NIFTY OUTLOOK

shashwatyadav930 published on TradingView.com, May 23, 2025 16:55 UTC+5:30

Bank Nifty has spent five weeks in a broad consolidation zone, with price action tightening yet staying range-bound. While not ultra-compressed, the structure reflects underlying accumulation. Importantly, a failed breakdown within this range strengthens the case for an imminent breakout. A decisive move above 56,000 will confirm bullish intent, likely attracting aggressive longs from breakout traders. With the 10- and 20-day EMAs aligned as momentum drivers, there's little overhead resistance to stall the rally. Post-breakout, bulls will set their sights on the 58,000 mark. On the downside, the swing low at 54,576 stands as crucial support—any meaningful dip should hold above this level to keep the bullish bias intact. The stage is set; now it's about confirmation.

Support : 54576-54442

Resistance 55695-56000

Strategy : Buy on breakout above 55695 for 56000/56250 with stop below 55400

POWER PLAY STOCK PICKS FOR THE WEEK

TVS Motors is forming a 149-day-long cup and handle pattern, with a tight right side consolidation between 2835–2720. Volume patterns in the base are constructive, marked by higher volumes on up days and lower volumes on down days—signaling institutional accumulation. The stock is well-positioned for a breakout, and a decisive move above the 2850 pivot level will likely trigger fresh bullish momentum. Post-breakout, the stock can rally towards the 3100 zone in the coming weeks

Strategy : Buy

Cmp : 2778

Stop Loss : 2725

HDFC Life has broken out of a massive 219-week inverse head and shoulder pattern with an open=low and a strong weekly close. While the breakout volume wasn't extraordinary, the base saw consistent accumulation—common in large-cap moves where volume often catches up on follow-through days. The technical structure now favors bulls, and a sustained move is likely. The stock is a buy at current levels, with dips to 745 offering a good accumulation opportunity.

Strategy : Buy

Cmp : 780

Stop Loss : 740

Target : 900

Lodha has broken out of a 54-day double bottom pattern and is now forming a rare base-on-base-on-base setup, indicating sustained accumulation. The presence of a double base above a previous breakout adds strength to the bullish structure. The triple base breakout is placed at 1450, and a decisive move above this level will trigger a strong uptrend. If volumes support the breakout, the stock can rally towards 1600 in the near term.

Strategy : Buy

Cmp : 1410

Stop Loss : 1350

Target : 1600
